

Our Clients

Our clients range from individuals to multinational corporations. We regularly represent our clients in designing and implementing global strategies for their intellectual property and technology.

We serve companies and organizations in nearly every industry, from traditional manufacturers to high-tech research institutions and everything in between, including advertising agencies, educational institutions, retailers, manufacturers and franchisers.

It is our core business belief that by developing and maintaining close relationship with our clients we could grow synergistically to attain our business success.